Holborn Corp. Releases New Capabilities Brochure Details Unique Service Model and Celebrates Independence

New York, NY, May 10, 2010—Holborn Corporation, a specialist in reinsurance services, today released an update to its 2006 capabilities brochure, documenting its status as the leading alternative to commodity service providers.

“Now that several players in the industry have consolidated, it is important to reassure the market of our plans.” said Frank T. Harrison, Holborn's President and CEO. “With so many wondering when the next shoe will drop, and on whom, clients and employees appreciate the stability that Holborn represents. This brochure reiterates our commitment to our independence, and reinforces the benefits of our way of doing business.”

John Gilbert, the firm's chairman, offered, "We at Holborn are not very comfortable with blowing our own trumpet. So for this brochure, we simply asked a few of our clients to discuss the benefits they derive from their relationships with our firm. Their endorsements of our efforts and the way we do business is, for us, the highest possible compliment."

Holborn's capabilities brochure is available for download from its website at the following link:
